What's Next

The next GRIP stage for the platform lengthening projects at Whittlesea and Manea involves taking one preferred option forward to examine in more detail. The selection of the preferred option will be based on a number of key considerations. These include (but are not limited to):

- Technical requirements
- Operational issues/effects on the rail infrastructure
- Public support/Consultation feedback
- Strategic fit – potential to benefit or support other projects or aspirations for the station
- Cost implications
