Tickets can be paid for on the day, it would however be helpful if people could please book their tickets, in order to know numbers for catering purposes. Proceeds will be split between the two churches.

On Sunday 23rd April, whilst the organ is still at Holy Trinity, there will be a 'Songs of Praise' where the emphasis will be on SINGING, with hymns, worship songs, and songs which may be secular but also appropriate to faith and across the ages. In particular Paul wants to explore/demonstrate music as a worshipping tool. This is aimed at all ages, there is no charge, it is an opportunity to just turn up, sing and enjoy! At present the time has not been decided but can/will be announced in due course.
