

Local Councillor/Community Activist - Retires From NHW.

Roy Gerstner, announced his retirement from being Chairman of the Whittlesey and District Neighbourhood Watch Group after 14 years.

It has been a 'wonderful' journey with some of the very best people to work with in our community.

Highlighting one notable very successful engagement – of when he co-ordinated the small group into supporting and helping some 80, mainly elderly and isolated residents during the covid outbreak.

At last night's NHW meeting, the group elected the current secretary Robin Sutton as Chairman and Roy takes on the role of Vice Chair.

He noted he had engaged with 3 PCC's (Police & Crime Commissioners) over 8 local Police Inspectors and lost count on how many Sergeants had passed through the area (well over 10) during his 14 years in the position.

Our group has got smaller as many others have over the last few years, but we are still very active in promoting and helping keep our town and villages safe.

Whittlesey and the villages are amongst the lowest crime areas in the county, not without some crimes being serious, on the whole 'most people feel safe within their community.
